Firefighter injured while fighting blaze

BY DENA BISNETTE
A Diamondhead fireman was injured Saturday morning while fighting a blaze that destroyed the residence of William J. Anderson.
Diamondhead Fire Department Chief Ed Friloux said Captain Richard Pate suffered first and second degree burns despite the protective gear he was wearing.

Pate's injuries were treated at the scene and he was not hospitalized, Friloux reported.

The injuries were caused by the intense heat of the fire, which Friloux said "melted the lens in the lights on our truck."

The chief said the fire at 9838 Ala Monna Street was discovered and reported by one of Anderson's neighbors at about 6 a.m.

Anderson's family was in Florida at the time of the fire and Anderson himself was not at home.

Friloux said the two-story brick veneer and wood structure was already "totally involved in flames" and the second story had collapsed when the firefighters and their two trucks reached the scene.

He said the firefighters were able to contain the fire and keep it from spreading to other nearby structures, but the house and contents were a total loss.

The estimated value of the house was $188,000 and its contents were worth about $94,000, Friloux added.

"If we had had more notice, there might not have been any real loss to speak of," Friloux said, "but the fire was already advanced when it was discovered."

He said the cause and origin of the fire are being investigated by the Hancock County Arson Investigation Squad and County Fire Marshall Jay Marsh.

Assisting at the scene was Gulf Coast (Diamondhead) Security, Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

Association to run Diamondhead

Ownership change takes effect Jan. 1

BY DENA BISNETTE

Diamondhead will begin 1985 under new ownership.

Effective Jan. 1, Purcell Company Inc. will deed over the ownership of most of Diamondhead's recreational facilities, its roads and common areas to the Diamondhead Property Owners Association.

According to Holcombe Hector, a Purcell vice president in charge of the changeover, the ownership change has been planned since the development of Diamondhead was started in 1970.

"This is merely the fulfillment of a commitment we made when we started development here," Hector explained.

In excess of $20 million in property will be handed over to the association, including the Diamondhead Country Club buildings and golf courses, the Diamondhead Yacht Club and marina, stables, tennis courts and streets, Hector said.

Also to be turned over to the association is the Diamondhead Sales Lodge. The sales lodge, which formerly housed the offices of Purcell, will become the headquarters of the association's 11-member board and Diamondhead Project Manager Robert Barnes and his staff.

The board consists of Glenn Smith, George Underwood, Frank Cerinella, Sylvia Pross, Al Doussan, Tom Heier, Tom Hickman, Harold Marshall, Betsy Nolan, Tom Rawls and Sidney Watson.

The board hired Barnes in August to assist the association in managing the properties being handed over by Purcell.

"The association has already met and set policy. My job is to see that their policies are carried out," Barnes said.

According to Hector, Purcell will retain its ownership of undeveloped property in Diamondhead, a new sales lodge, the Diamondhead Utility Company, Diamondhead Inn and Diamondhead Plaza Shopping Center.

Barnes said the members of the property owners association have been preparing for the changeover for the past four years by paying $24 per lot per year in addition to the maintenance dues paid under the

Cocaine bust largest ever in Hancock

By ELLIS CUEVAS

In what is being described as the "largest bust ever" of cocaine in Hancock County by law enforcement officers, one person was arrested around midnight Friday at a Waveland motel.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said, "The bust came after a subject allegedly sold approximately 12 ounces of cocaine to an undercover Drug Enforcement Agent (DEA) at a Waveland motel."

Peterson continued, "An extended investigation by this department led to bringing in an undercover Drug Enforcement Agent."

Peterson said, "Winfield A. Strehle, III, 27, who gave an address of Rt. 2, Box 625, Bay St. Louis, is charged for the alleged sale of a controlled substance."

An initial bond of $250,000 has been set for Strehle, who is lodged in the Hancock County jail. He is scheduled to make an initial appearance before a Hancock County Justice Court judge on Monday, Peterson stated.

A street value of $30-40,000 was estimated on the cocaine involved in the incident, according to Peterson.

A 1976 Lincoln was also seized and its registration numbers are being being checked for ownership, Peterson said.

Those involved in the arrest were Peterson, Hancock County Sheriff's Investigator Alvin Ladner, Drug Enforcement Agents, U.S. Customs Agents, Mississippi State Tax Commission Alcoholic Beverage Control Division officers, Hancock deputies and Waveland Police Department officers.

January Anderson exhibit slated at Biloxi Library

"Robinson, The Pleasant History of An Unusual Cat" is a story told by the late Ocean Springs artist Walter Anderson in a series of 33 linoleum block prints which will be on display at the Biloxi Library/Cultural Center Jan. 3 through Jan. 18.

Written and illustrated for his children, the story was inspired by an adventurous family cat who nightly created "music" by walking the keys of the Anderson's piano.

Robinson's musical ability eventually led him to a concert at Carnegie Hall and to the establishment of an animal orchestra composed of a zool of musicians.

Best known for his watercolor paintings of nature, Anderson also worked in pen and ink and crayon, as well as block printing.

Although applied color is unusual in block printings, Anderson frequently painted his finished prints with watercolors.

This exhibit, printed from Anderson's original blocks, was painted by Adele Anderson Lawton, his niece.

As part of the Mississippi State Historical Museum's traveling exhibit program, "Robinson, the Pleasant History of An Unusual Cat" was first shown at the museum in Jackson before beginning its tour around the state.

It is one of 19 exhibits touring now. The traveling exhibit program was begun to make the exhibits of the museum more accessible to Mississippi's citizens statewide.

The museum is a division of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History.

A management consultant makes the following observation: "Be the first in the office every morning, be the last to leave every night, never take a day off, slave through the lunch hour, and the inevitable day will come when the boss will summon you to his office and say, 'I've been watching you work very carefully, Jackson. Just what the devil are you up to, anyhow?'"

HONORS—Bay St. Louis police Officer Wilbert Dorsey was recently recognized for 13 years of service to the department. Also honored were Gwen Fredrick with 10 years of service and Beverly Lee with seven years. The three were awarded certificates by Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett and Acting Police Chief Murray Ladner.

Small business counseling expected to increase in '85

The growth in small business activity and in start-ups during 1984 is expected to continue into 1985 according to Gus Puhle, new chairman of the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) local chapter.

Speaking at the SCORE annual meeting held at the Best Western Biloxi Inn, Puhle stated "management advisory assistance to small business will increase next year. SCORE staff has been expanded to provide this free service when requested."

This is important since the number of small businesses in south Mississippi is growing and providing gains to the economy and in employment."

He also explained that SCORE counseling is most effective when requested at the early planning stage. Since 1972, when a SCORE chapter was established on the Coast, many new successful businesses were formed and many existing businesses were able to avoid serious management mistakes with SCORE assistance.

Although sponsored by the U.S.

Small Business Administration, it is not necessary for a business to have an SBA loan to be eligible for free confidential services.

Chairman Puhle presented the new officers for the year 1985. These include from Ocean Springs, Lucian Gilbert, vice-chairman and Sidney Wogan, treasurer. Walter 'Dick' Cosby of Bay St. Louis is serving as secretary.

Special Service Awards were presented to Stone Smith of Biloxi and Fritz Lindley of Gulfport. Three-year service pins were awarded to Arnold Kietzer of Gulfport, Walter Poorman of Biloxi, Paul White of Bay St. Louis, and Jack Wolsieffer of Long Beach. A six-year pin was presented to Larry Abrams of Bay

St. Louis and a ten-year pin to Ed Mitchell of Ocean Springs. A special 15-year award was made to W.J. Carr of Gulfport.

Bob Driegert of Long Beach reported on the need for new members.

Retired businessmen and businesswomen or professionals who are willing and able to provide volunteer business counseling may get in touch with SCORE by calling 435-3676 or visiting the Biloxi office of the SBA.

He also pointed out that executives still in business with time to help the small business community are invited to join the Active Corps of Executives (ACE) a division of SCORE.

SERVICE AWARD—Walter 'Dick' Cosby, left, congratulates Larry Abrams who received a six-year special service award at a recent meeting of the Service Corps of Retired Executives. Cosby is secretary of the organization.

THE MISSION OF CHRIST

"Pilate therefore said unto him, art thou King then? Jesus answered, 'Thou sayest that I am a King. To this end was I born, and for this cause come I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.'" (John 18:37)

In Jacob's parting words to his sons, he said to Judah, "The scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come." (Genesis 49:10)

The scepter is the staff of authority. "Shiloh" is a descriptive term of the Messiah, the Prince of Peace.

The leadership of Judah over the other tribes would not be relinquished until Christ came.

Isaiah prophesied concerning the government of the Christ, "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder...of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David and upon his Kingdom, to order it and to establish it with judgement and with justice from hence forth even forever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this." (Isaiah 9:6-7)

The angel said the things mentioned in Isaiah's prophecy would happen to Jesus. (Luke 1:31-33)

Daniel prophesied God would set up a king in the days of the Roman kings, "And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms and it shall stand forever." (Daniel 1:44)

In verse 45 Christ is "the stone" which "was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that break in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and gold." These foregoing elements represented the kingdoms of the world before the coming of Christ.

Jesus said to Peter: "Upon this rock I will build my church...and I will give unto you the keys of the kingdom of heaven..." (Matthew 16:18-19) Therefore the kingdom Jesus said he would build is the church.

In Mark 9:1, Jesus said, "Verily I say unto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death until they have seen the kingdom of God come with power." That power would come when the Holy Spirit came. (Acts 1:8)

The Holy Spirit came on the first Pentecost after the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the tomb. (Acts 2:1-4) On that occasion Jesus Christ was elevated to the throne at the right hand of the Father. (Acts 2:32-36)

Of the elevation of Christ, Paul said, "Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places, for above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come; and hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be heard over all things to the church." (Ephesians 1:20-22)

The believer in Christ can have the assurance when Christ comes again, the Kingdom will be delivered to the Father. Paul said, "Then cometh the end, when he (Christ) shall have delivered up the Kingdom to God even the Father: when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power. For he must reign till he hath put all enemies under his feet. The last enemy is death." (1 Corinthians 15:24-26)

Quotables by CUEVAS

Ashton Carver, a longtime friend, dropped by the office yesterday morning to give me a newspaper he purchased on his way to home from work before the holidays.

Ashton's occupation takes him far from home for extended periods as he is now working south of Kodiak Island, Alaska, in the oil fields.

He said he sure hated to return to the Alaskan weather as he has really enjoyed the 70's and 80's we have had for the Christmas Holidays.

The Fairbanks Daily News - Miner issue of Dec. 11 carried an interesting weather report.

The forecast was clear with a high of 15-20 below; nights 25-30 and colder outlying.

Sunrise for the day was 10:47 a.m. and sunset 2:23 p.m.

As you can see the days are very short at this time in Alaska.

It was just thinking about how we have just passed the shortest day of the year in our area and the days are now getting longer.

Ashton said he stays outside as little as possible and is really glad to get back to his family and friends in Bay St. Louis.

In a couple days 1984 will only be history and everyone will be looking forward as to what 1985 will bring.

We wish each and every one of you a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Lung Association offers smokers self-help manual

Making your New Year's resolutions? Your Mississippi Lung Association suggests that if you smoke, you may wish to "kick the habit" for your life and breath.

Most smokers at one time or another would like to stop smoking if an easy way could be found to carry out their smoking cessation wish, says Mary Jane Green of Grenada, president of the Christmas Seal voluntary health organization.

"Freedom from Smoking in Twenty Days" is a self-help manual offered by the Mississippi Lung Association to encourage and help smokers quit smoking. It describes a day-by-day plan which has helped thousands to quit smoking.

A second booklet, "A Lifetime of Freedom from Smoking" is designed to maintain your new nonsmoking status. Tensions and events that cause backsliding are anticipated and this manual helps the new nonsmoker cope with and solve these problems while maintaining a "smoke-free" lifestyle.

Another available booklet, "Help A Friend Stop Smoking," is loaded with information on the health hazards of smoking and ways to help someone in their smoking cessation endeavors.

"Freedom from Smoking in Twenty Days" is a highly individualized and very workable way to quit smoking.

It is ideal for the person making a New Year's resolution for their health. All materials are free of charge, as a Christmas Seal service.

For more information, contact the Mississippi Lung Association, P.O. Box 9865, Jackson, Ms. 39206 or telephone 362-5453.

Resolutions for Better Health
(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

The New Year is approaching, and many of us will make New Year's Resolutions.

Experience has taught many of us that only realistic resolutions are likely to be kept. Unrealistic resolutions either will be quickly forgotten or will become a source of frustration as we strive to achieve overly-ambitious goals.

The Mississippi State Medical Association reminds that there is much you can do to ensure that you and your family have the opportunity to enjoy a healthier new year. You can resolve to:

—Use seat belts and make sure your family members do, also. Automobile accidents claim some 50,000 lives each year, and injuries number in the millions. Most deaths and serious injuries can be prevented by the regular use of seat belts.

—Make sure your family members are immunized. Protection exists from the devastating effects of measles, rubella, polio, diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus. Many people, however, remain unprotected from these diseases because of failure to have the vaccinations.

—Become informed about proper nutrition and exercise. Total fitness not only improves personal appearance, but enhances physical health and mental and emotional well-being, too.

—Become aware of home safety hazards. Accidents in the home and poisonings from household chemicals are major problems, and most of these are preventable. Make sure your family members wear protective clothing whenever possible, whether riding a motorcycle, skateboarding or mowing the lawn.

—Learn to recognize symptoms of the diseases of alcoholism and mental illness. If you or someone you know is suffering, take advantage of the professional help that is available to treat these disorders.

—Become informed about such things as risk factors in heart disease, symptoms of diabetes and cancer's warning signals. Early detection is often the key to successful treatment.

—If you are taking prescribed medications, take them properly. The courses of many illnesses are influenced by regular and complete regimens of medication. Read labels. Remember to discuss with your physician any other medications you may be taking, whether prescribed or purchased over the counter.

—Make every effort to stop smoking. The hazards of smoking have been documented, and it makes sense to reduce your chances of contracting any of the illnesses that have been linked with smoking.

—For regular health care (and to reduce costs, too) have a family physician who knows your medical history. Don't be afraid to use the telephone to talk with the doctor about minor health problems. On the other hand, don't wait too long to see the physician when you are ill. Delaying treatment for an illness can cost more in the long run. Emergency care is more expensive.

There is much you can do to achieve and maintain good health, and throughout the new year the physicians of the Mississippi State Medical Association will provide more information about preventing illness and injury.

Traffic accident report ruling restricts information access

Beginning Tuesday, all Mississippi law enforcement agencies will begin filing a standard accident report form with the Department of Public Safety.

Use of the Mississippi Uniform Accident Report Form was mandated by a law passed during the 1984 legislative session that goes into effect Jan. 1.

This is the first major revision of the accident report used by the department and most other law enforcement agencies in the state since 1965.

The need for a uniform accident report was underscored when it was found that specific, accurate statistics on alcohol-related crashes occurring in Mississippi were not available.

"Some law enforcement agencies were filing detailed accident reports that contained adequate information while other agencies were submitting vague reports that did not answer questions sufficiently to compile statistics in categories related to alcohol, types of motor vehicles involved, etc.," Commissioner of Public Safety James L. Roberts Jr. said.

"At last count, the Department of Public Safety was handling 48 different kinds of accident reports from across the state."

"This is the first time all law enforcement jurisdictions will be reporting the same information on accidents."

"The form will aid law enforcement officer training since all accidents investigated will be reported on the standard form," the commissioner said.

"Every effort was made to ensure the form is easy for the investigating officer to use and detailed enough to obtain accurate, timely information about traffic accidents occurring on roads, highways and city streets," Roberts explained.

He said the department has provided, at no charge, police departments, coroners, sheriffs and certain other law enforcement agencies and individuals a substantial supply of the forms and instruction manuals explaining the proper way to answer the 134 questions on the report.

From October through December specially trained troopers from the Mississippi Highway Patrol provided instruction in the use of the form to representatives of the law enforcement community in Mississippi. All agencies have received personal instruction, videotaped lectures or both.

The Mississippi Uniform Accident Report Form includes a cover sheet; three copies for the Highway Patrol's Safety Responsibility Bureau; the jurisdictional agency and the investigating officer; and information sheets for drivers involved in an accident.

When there are three or more vehicles involved in an accident, a supplemental form is used.

A Mississippi Child Restraint Use Form is completed when one or more children under the age of two are passengers in a vehicle involved in an accident.

If a sample of a driver's blood is sent to the Mississippi Crime Laboratory for analysis to determine alcohol content, a separate form is completed.

Only reports submitted on the Mississippi Uniform Accident Report Form will be accepted by the Department of Public Safety.

In December, all reports and supplemental reports on accidents investigated by troopers of the Mississippi Highway Patrol were deemed "confidential" by the attorney general and can only be furnished to law enforcement agencies.

The ruling, which is currently under review, prohibits individuals, insurance companies and lawyers from purchasing reports on accidents investigated by officers of the patrol.

This ruling may also have a chilling effect on the efforts of news media to report thoroughly the details of traffic accidents.

For three months 18 agencies participated in the project to assist in the final design of the form.

Pilot agencies were police departments in Hattiesburg, Corinth, Southaven, Clinton, Biloxi, Starkville, Pascagoula, Oxford, Greenville and Waveland; sheriffs offices in Lee, Hancock, Lowndes, Jones, Copiah, Hinds and Tate counties; and two troopers in each of the nine Highway Patrol districts.

Some questions on the new report form give an investigating officer the opportunity to make recommendations concerning drivers involved in accidents. For example, one asks if a driver should be reexamined for driver license purposes.

Another deals with the location of each occupant of the vehicle at the time of a crash and should provide interesting statistics concerning the safest place to be seated in an automobile involved in a crash.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Waveland woman sings praises of state's alcohol and drug abuse treatment facility

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter to the editor is printed without a signature contrary to Sea Coast Echo policy to protect the anonymity of the writer, a recovering drug addict.

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

A thought for Christmas

I recently completed a stay at Mississippi State Hospital for drug addicts.

It's put on by the state for alcoholics and drug addicts. I was on duty during my time there.

There's individual counseling and group counseling. After you've attended some meetings, they put you at a level where you can view your problems.

The counselors are alcoholic and drug addicts themselves. So one doesn't have to feel like the only person who has been through this type of crisis.

Everything is organized. The staff is trained in their jobs to handle any problems that an alcoholic or drug addict might suffer with.

My advice is this—if you know of someone or have someone you care for, who is mixed up in drugs like I was, tell them to go through this program.

It has really helped me so much. I just can't begin to tell you how much this program has helped someone like me.

I made me realize that my drug habit was a sickness, yes, like a cold. I mean I never have to get in that shape again, because I'm afraid of what it might do to me.

If you have a drug or alcoholic problem, get help. You'll be the better for it.

Hancock County; Senator Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis; Gale Martin of Jackson, Mississippi Association of Conservation District secretary-treasurer; and H. M. Lay of Decatur, Mississippi Association of Conservation District Area VI vice president.

Conservationists meet with legislators

Legislators from three Coast counties recently met at Gulfport for a program sponsored by the Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties Soil and Water Conservation Districts. Senator Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis and District Conservationist Doug Stephens of Catahoula, represented Hancock County.

After a luncheon Gene Sullivan, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, told visiting legislators of the needs for future funding of conservation in Mississippi.

Gale Martin, Mississippi Association of Conservation District secretary-treasurer, spoke about the role of the Mississippi Soil and Water Conservation Commission and local soil and water conservation districts in carrying out conservation in Mississippi.

The program also included a slide showing the highlights of seven Hold Our Topsoil demonstrations and the advantages of using conservation practices.

Real estate licenses awarded

Seventy-three persons passed the real estate examination held in December and are now licensed to practice as real estate salesmen in the state of Mississippi.

The new real estate salesmen include Jacquelyn J. Ginn of Bay St. Louis, Edward J. Toomey of Waveland, Francis J. Schatzle of Pass Christian and Robert Holcombe of Picayune.

OLA students selected for talent program

Four seventh grade students from Our Lady Academy have been selected as candidates in Duke University's Talent Identification Program.

They are Anna Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.G. Dean Jr. of Bay St. Louis; Heidi Hitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hitt of Bay St. Louis; Lynda Scardino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Scardino Jr. and Courtney Thomas, daughter of Joan Thomas.

These students had test scores at or above the 97th percentile on the California Achievement Test which was given in the sixth grade. Duke University, Durham, N.C., focuses on exceptionally bright students in 18 states in the southeast United States.

In December or January these students will take the Scholastic Aptitude Test with high school juniors and seniors.

Objective of the program is to identify the very bright at an early age, assist in the education of these students through the critical middle and high school years, assist in placement in colleges or universities and to develop an effective research effort to help understand the nature of the gifted adolescent.

Couple arrested for Shoreline arson

Two Pearl River, La., residents have been arrested and charged with the arson of a Shoreline Park home that burned last February.

James R. McQueen, 36, and Cheryl F. McQueen, 23, were arrested in St. Tammany Parish, La., after a month-long investigation by the arson squad of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department, said arson squad member Ed Friloux.

Mr. and Mrs. McQueen waived extradition and turned themselves in at the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Wednesday, Friloux said.

Warrants for the arrests of the McQueens were issued after Larry Otis Williams pleaded guilty to arson charges in July.

Williams allegedly set fire to his rented residence to collect insurance on its contents. An investigation of the fire indicated that Williams, who is free on bond but is expected to be sentenced in January, had accomplices.

Mr. and Mrs. McQueen were released on $3,000 bond each pending a preliminary hearing.

chores to deliver food baskets to needy families in the Bay St. Louis area. The board members also contributed to purchase of items to stock the baskets. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

GOOD FOOD—The Hancock County Courtroom turned into a cafeteria for a big Christmas party co-sponsored by Edward Murtagh, county assessor and tax collector; Ronnie Peterson, county sheriff; John Rutherford, county circuit clerk; and Mike Necaise, county chancery clerk. The decorations and foods were furnished by the county officials and prepared by their staffs. Dennis Tartavouille, deputy sheriff, makes his way through the food line. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas) original contract with Purcell, then known as Diamondhead Development Corporation.

The funding accumulated through the $24 payments on nearly 6,000 privately owned lots in Diamondhead will be used to refurbish buildings, buy new maintenance equipment for the roads and golf courses and defray the other expenses of the changeover.

The $24 assessment will be discontinued after 1985, Barnes added. "I feel we will be contributing to Hancock County quite a bit. We will have a payroll in the area of more than $1 million," Barnes said.

Hector said a few of the employees currently working at the facilities affected by the ownership change will stay with Purcell, but most will be hired by the association when the changeover takes effect.

Barnes also said that he believes the changeover will allow more money to be spent on Diamondhead's roads and recreational facilities, since the association, unlike Purcell, is non-profit. "We will be putting our profits back into the facilities," Barnes explained.

News Briefs

SHRIMP SEASON CLOSES

At midnight Dec. 31, state waters north of the Intracoastal Waterway will close to all shrimping activities, except licensed live bait shrimping. Waters south of the Intracoastal Waterway remain open through April 30.

For more information contact the Bureau of Marine Resources Saltwater Fisheries Division.

HOUSE FIRE

Bay St. Louis firefighters responded to a house fire on Lincoln Drive Saturday afternoon. Fire Chief Andrew Lizana said the fire apparently started in a large television set. No one was at home and ownership of the residence was being checked, Lizana stated. John Perniciaro, a neighbor, said he saw the fire from his back yard and had his wife notify the fire department. He and several family members rushed over to the fire and sprayed water on the flames until fire units arrived.

Hector called the current transition process "a very smooth and orderly transfer" and said most of the comments he has heard on the matter have been favorable. Diamondhead Property Owners Association President Glenn Smith said he has been getting a similar response from association members.

"I'd say these property owners are wildly enthusiastic about getting Diamondhead and operating it themselves," Smith commented.

He said every decision the board had made during changeover negotiations had been unanimous. "We didn't have a single dissenting vote," he said.

USM professors to study pollution in the Sound

A $40,000 grant awarded to the University of Southern Mississippi will fund a search for the source of fecal pollution in the Mississippi Sound.

The grant from the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium was made to the USM departments of biology and chemistry on a proposal submitted by Dr. Robert D. Taylor, associate professor of biology, and Dr. Jeffrey Evans, associate professor of chemistry.

Taylor said the funds will allow the two to attempt to trace the source of pollution in the vast area incorporating the Mississippi Sound—the waters along the Gulf Coast from Louisiana through the Mobile Bay.

"We will be collecting environmental samples from along the Mississippi Gulf Coast to bring to the lab and perform our tests on," he said.

He also added that no major changes had been made in the original 1970 agreement with Diamondhead Corporation.

"We've made a few modifications but they were mostly cosmetic things to make this transition smoother," he said.

The transition in ownership, however, does not mean that property association members will try to incorporate Diamondhead in the near future, Barnes said.

He said a study on the possibility of making Diamondhead an incorporated city had indicated that the cost of providing additional services to residents would be too expensive at this time.

ON CO-SIGNING A LOAN

Thinking of co-signing a loan? A recent study found that three out of four people (75 percent) who co-sign finance loans are asked to pay them.

Too often people sign their name without realizing they too can be held responsible. If the borrower does not pay, the co-signer is expected to do so.

The debt the co-signer must pay may include heavy late charges. If there are court costs and attorney fees, the co-signer must pay.

Stolen vehicle recovered on Julia St.

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A vehicle stolen from a Metairie, La., residence was recovered partially stripped on Julia Street Friday evening.

The Bay St. Louis police dispatcher received a call from the neighbor of a Julia Street residence reporting a light on the in unoccupied residence, Joe Pica, Bay police investigator said.

"Bay Patrolmen Rita Blaize, Ed Prendergast, and Don Osco check the house and found a back door open. The officers noted parts of an auto in the house and checked outside to find a vehicle partially stripped," Pica added.

A check on the registration of the vehicle reported it as being stolen from Metairie.

Two suspicious male had been seen in the area earlier in the day Pica said.

Murray Ladner, Bay acting chief of police reports the case is still under investigation.

Brief

ON IRAs

How much of a tax break can a person get by putting $2,000 in an Individual Retirement Account and when in a 40 percent tax bracket? A $2,000 contribution to an IRA lowers taxes by $800. By putting the $2,000 into an IRA, $800 will be lost to taxes. That will leave $1,200 for investment or some other use.

The long, bell sleeves were fitted at the wrist and were enhanced with ruffles. A satin ribbon sash encircled her waistline and was secured with silk flowers with cascading ribbons and flowers on the full, flared skirt, with ruffled

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

What's New Year's dinner without blackeye peas and hog jowl? That tradition is carried on, in many homes, year after year. Whether it brings good luck, as in the legendary story, it does afford a pleasant change in eating habits. Serve blackeye peas, turnip greens, baked sweet potatoes and corn bread for a traditional Southern menu.

If your New Year plans include blackeye peas you have several choices in the grocery store. Select from dry, canned or frozen. You will pay more for canned or frozen peas. However, on time and fuel for preparation, canned peas make the least demand.

Texture and flavor preferences for different forms of field peas vary with individual tastes and methods of preparation. There is little room for argument when it comes to the choice of peas canned from dry stock or from fresh peas. Texture and flavor are definitely poor for those that are labeled "canned from dry stock" or "cooked dry peas." Price has always been lower for these peas than for canned fresh peas, but there's little difference in cost of the two types now—another evidence that the cost of the can may effect retail price more than the cost of its contents.

Texture and flavor of frozen peas, surprisingly enough, are seldom superior to that of the least expensive brands of canned peas. With proper seasoning and heating methods, the flavor and texture of canned peas may be excellent. When you compare cost of canned or dried peas for economy, remember the preparation method is important in getting the most satisfaction from the money spent.

If your choice for New Year's dinner is dry peas, the way you cook them will have a lot to do with their texture. Since mushy peas do not look as appetizing as crisp, whole, tender ones, texture also affects appearance. To cook dry peas tender without mushiness use an hour hot soak instead of the overnight soaking our grandmothers used. Here's how:

Wash and slice a half pound of hog jowl (or other pork). Add 4 cups of water and simmer for 1½ hours.

Wash 1½ cups dry peas and put in vessel with hawl. Bring back to a boil and remove from heat for one hour while peas soak. Return peas to heat and simmer slowly 35 to 45 minutes, until peas are tender but not mushy. Add 1 to 2 teaspoons salt during the last five minutes of cooking. You will need to use less salt if you use cured pork.

For the best buy in other New Year's food, study the food ads carefully. Mid-night snacks of the "fix-it-yourself" type may come directly from our less expensive foods. Wedges of big red apples, slabs of mellow cheese, and peanut butter on crackers are tasty, nourishing and economical.

Although choices in prepared sandwich meats are numerous, lowest prices are for the most frequently used ones, such as bologna and spiced ham. You can usually save money by buying sandwich meats in unsliced pieces.

For more elegant entertaining, spreads and dips made at home from cheddar cheese or leftover ham or poultry are as economical as they are good. If you must assemble snacks in a hurry, you will pay more, but there's a wide assortment of partly or fully prepared dips and sandwich spreads available.

Hot chocolate appeals to young and old alike on cold winter nights. The easiest solution to this problem is to heat chocolate milk or add hot water to a hot chocolate mix. These are available in individual packets. In making hot chocolate from fresh milk, you can save time by using commercially prepared chocolate syrup or by making home-prepared syrup ahead of time to add to hot milk. When fresh milk supply is exhausted, an acceptable substitute is reconstituted dry milk with canned milk added for richness.

Children have more need of models than critics.

Today you can send a message around the world in less time than it takes to penetrate a human skull.
